

PRESS RELEASE

Wemhöner is global market leader 2022

For the fourth time in a row, Wemhöner is one of 517 companies from Germany to meet the requirements for the coveted award. The designation Global Market Leader or Champion stands across all industries for globally active and successful companies in mostly family-run businesses with leading technologies and outstanding quality of their products and services.

The selection method

The list of world market leaders is compiled annually by the University of Sankt Gallen, CH. To be considered a champion, a company must be number one or two in at least one relevant market segment. The annual turnover, at least 50 million euros, must be 50% generated abroad and on three continents. The company headquarters must be in Germany. The scientists only use official figures.
